This document illustrates how research teams can submit a request to add a study listing to UF StudyConnect, a website the UF CTSI maintains and promotes in collaboration with the four UF IRBs, UF Health and research teams across the university to provide a comprehensive, searchable listing of actively enrolling human-subject research studies led by UF investigators. In addition to being displayed on the UF StudyConnect website, study listings appear on UFHealth.org.

STEP 1: Click on the button at the bottom of the UF StudyConnect homepage for adding a study.

STEP 2: Complete and submit the form to initiate your request to add a study.

STEP 3: A member of the CTSI Study Registry team will contact and work with you to add your study information to the site.
